

NOTICE OF 2006 STATE RATING FOR BAILEY MIDDLE SCHOOL:

ACCEPTABLE

The Austin Independent School District is required by state law to notify parents of the accountability ratings assigned by the state, along with an explanation of the ratings, with the first report card of the year. BAILEY MIDDLE SCHOOL received a rating of ACCEPTABLE for 2006. If you have any questions about your school's rating or current performance data, please contact the principal at 414-4990. You can also find additional information about state accountability ratings on the Texas Education Agency web site at <http://www.tea.state.tx.us/perfreport/account/2006/manual/index.html>. The requirements for each accountability rating are shown below. Updated information about the school's rating will be sent to you in winter 2007, when released by the Texas Education Agency to the district.

State ratings for all schools this year are assigned based on student passing rates on state tests. All students in the school must pass at the rates shown in the chart to achieve the given rating. Also, if enough African American, Hispanic, White or economically disadvantaged students were enrolled and tested at the school, then the students in each of those four groups also must pass at the same rates, as shown in the chart. Performance on all requirements will be discussed in detail at the school's Campus Advisory Council meeting.
