

Research indicates that school climate can either be a positive influence on students' learning environment, or can serve as a significant barrier to students' learning. Researchers have documented that positive ratings of student climate to contribute to factors that help high economically disadvantaged schools "beat the odds" (Voight, Austin & Hanson, 2013). Indeed, students at high-performing AISD schools with high levels of economic disadvantage had more positive ratings of behavioral environment and adult fairness and respect in Spring 2013 than did students at lower performing schools AISD with similar levels of economic disadvantage (Lamb, 2014).

The following tables show the total number of surveys students at Hart completed in 2013-2014 (Table 1) and the response rate by grade (Table 2).

of surveys returned	264	16,960
of students	303	19,770
% of students represented	87%	86%

grade	# of students enrolled	# of responses	response rate
3rd grade	98	73	74%
4th grade	103	85	83%
5th grade	102	97	95%
6th grade	n/a	1	n/a%

*Students' grade level was self-reported. Population data reflect enrollment as of the PEIMS snapshot date in October

Figure 1 depicts Hart's average student climate survey ratings for 2013-2014, compared with average ratings across all Elementary Schools in 2013-2014. Scores over 3.0 are desirable, as indicated by the green line. Please note the green and red text boxes that highlight the specific area in which Hart most excels, as well as the area in which Hart can improve most.

Hart's highest score on the 2013-2014 Student Climate Survey was for teacher expectations, which measures students' perceptions of their teachers' expectations. Please think about what your campus does to foster high expectations, and share your strategies with others.

Hart's lowest score on the 2013-2014 Student Climate Survey was for behavioral environment, which measures the extent to which students respect each other, follow the rules, and feel safe at your campus. Higher ratings of behavioral environment have been associated with academic achievement. For resources on how to improve your campus' behavioral environment, please visit AISD's Social Emotional Learning (SEL) website: <http://www.austinisd.org/academics/sel> and the district's Respect for All website: <http://www.austinisd.org/respectforall>

The following pages contain more detailed information regarding Hart's student climate results from 2011-2012 to 2013-2014. Please review the individual items on each subscale with particular attention to how Hart's average ratings have changed or remained consistent over time. Please note that some subscales have changed from previous years, making longitudinal comparisons inappropriate for some items and subscales. For items and subscales where longitudinal data are available, statistically meaningful changes are noted with up or down arrows. Please share the results of this report with all campus staff and

Teacher expectations average

These items are based on the subscale from the Tripod survey and response options have changed to be on the AISD scale. It is desirable to have a response of at least 3.0. One item was dropped from this subscale in 2014 and items #12 and #20 have been moved from the Adult Fairness and Respect subscale to the Teacher Expectations subscale based on results generated from factor analyses and reliability analyses. Average subscale scores reported here are different than those reported in prior reports.

* These items have been reworded from the 2012-2013 survey. A list of reworded items is located in Appendix A.

% Yes	76%	76%	68%	77%
% No	1%	2%	2%	2%
% Maybe	23%	22%	30%	22%
